

RECEIVING UNEMPLOYMENT Benefits and moving?

- If you forget to change your address with the Division of Employment Security (DES), your benefits may be delayed.
- Don't add more stress during this time of transition; be sure to change your address with the DES.

If your address changes, update it when you file your weekly certification (claim), by visiting <http://bit.ly/uiaddress>, or call your Regional Claims Center. It is very important that the DES has your correct mailing address. You will not receive important documents and notices without it. The DES does not forward returned mail, and any address changes made only with the U. S. Postal Service does not change your address with the DES.
